

Custom Designing

The icecart was designed to provide a safer, easier way of delivering more ice, more efficiently.

The appliance truck was developed to allow for safer, easier moving of larger appliances without excessive strain or possible damage.

Many custom bulk delivery carts have been engineered to provide unique solutions to specialty problems. From warehouse to delivery use, our designs have been able to solve material handling issues for client's special needs.